Dhammacarika Youth Camp Project

To facilitate the space for Cambodian youths in exploring their inner potential of ethic awareness

Leadership capacity and social participation

If you are planning for a day, grow rice

If you are planning for 20 years, grow trees

If you are planning for future generations, grow leaders.

Organizer: Youth Education Buddhist Center (YEBC)

Location: Watt Puek, Puek Commune, Puek District, Siem Reap Angkor Province, Cambodia.

1. Name of Project: Dhammacarika Youth Camp Project

2. Vision and Mission Statement:

Most Cambodian people recognize themselves as Buddhist in which this faith has embraced their spirit, way of life, culture and thought. Buddhism has played important roles in the Cambodia society. Through the profound teaching of moderation, middle path, self-reliance, mindfulness, ethic-based individuality, compassion, tolerance, non-violence and enlightenment validates Cambodian people to a high standard of spirituality.

Decades of civil war, all social infrastructures have been violated and damaged especially Buddhism which is considered as the significant institution of society. During Khmer Rouge regime, those perpetrators destroyed temples, sacred sites, scriptures; disrobed and murdered Bhikkhu monks. Viciously, they killed most of the educated stratum of people. When most educated monks have been eliminated, the chronic difficulty of national Buddhist education is clearly exhibited. Nowadays, we are lack of effective leaders, study texts and accurate curriculum, importantly the Bhikkhu monks who have to take accountable teaching and spreading the concept of peace, reconciliation and sustainable development.

Seeing these social chronic and disadvantages, we are Cambodian young generation have initiated to establish Khmer Youth Education Buddhist Center to embark our journey explicitly targets youth: monks, students and children to provide them the opportunity of searching their inner capacity, leadership, self-awareness, self-responsibility and social participation. We believe that to build individual's leadership capacity can enhance good public services, alleviate poverty and construct social welfare.

3. Objectives:

Our important objectives are:

- To provide opportunity to young monks, students or children to explore their inner potential through meditation and interaction.
- To enhance them in developing leadership capacity
- To instruct them to be aware of learning sciences aware of ethical responsibility.
- To guide them in an appropriate way of replacing their unwholesome habits and negative thought to be reliable and applicable.
- To wake them up in the spirit of becoming good children, good students, good friends, good citizens and good followers.
- To envision them in learning, practicing, caring and spreading their culture and tradition.
- To practice the Dhamma in order to pay gratitude to all elders, ancestors and heroes / heroines of Cambodia.
